

The UK and global nuclear industry needs nuclear materials to be constantly managed and moved. INS is the specialist team helping to solve these complex nuclear challenges.

A new senior manager role has been created to head up the Ship Management Team, reporting to the Head of Shipping, to drive the technical delivery of the ship management contracts and to lead management of physical protection on the vessels. The individual will be expected to act as the intelligent customer and have marine experience to strengthen our capability in this area. The role requires an individual with strong leadership and team management skills; strong experience in marine management; strong contract management and delivery skills with management experience of a large contract.

Apply by 2nd January by emailing paul.mount@capita.co.uk

Capita is managing the recruitment of this role.

Interviews to be held week commencing 8 January 2018, in Warrington, Cheshire. The preferred location for this opening is Barrow, Cumbria.

